MRS. JOHN PRINE DEAD.

Mrs. John Prine died at the family home in Mart yesterday morning at 3 o'clock after a short illness. The remains were taken to her old home in Navasota yesterday afternoon and the funeral was held at 9:30 this morning from the home of her mother Mrs. F. W. Goree.

She and Mr. Prine were married on the 8th of July, only three months ago and came at once to Bryan and lived here until Mr. Prine, who is in the employ of the I. & G. N. railroad was transferred to Mart. During her residence here she made many friends, though as Miss Mary Goree she was already well known and had a large circle of friends in this city.

The news of her sad and untimely death brings profound sorrow to many hearts in Bryan.

Monuments to Wellington.

Has any British national hero more monuments to his fame in London than Wellington? There is the Achilles statue by Westmacott in Hyde park, cast from cannons taken at Salamanca, Vittoria, Toulouse and Waterloo, at a cost of £10,000, defrayed by "the women of England." The equestrian statue by Boehm at Hyde park corner is the second equestrian statue erected in that locality. The former one, by Wyatt, costing some £30,000, was removed to Aldershot when the arch which it crowned was moved. Then there is the colossal equestrian statue by Chantrey at the west front of the Royal Exchange, the monument by Bell in the Guildhall, the monument by Stevens in St. Paul's, which was over twenty years in hand, and a stone statue by Milnes, erected in the Tower of London near the Waterloo barracks.—London Chronicle.

Flower Gardens of the Sea.

The sea has its flower gardens, but the blooms are not on plants as they are on the land. It is the animals of the sea that make the gardens, the corals of the tropical waters particularly making a display of floral beauty that fairly rivals the gorgeous coloring and delicate grace presented by land flowers. So closely do they resemble plant blooms that it is hard to believe that they are wholly animal in organization. A naturalist says that among the coral gardens there are fishes of curious forms and flashing colors darting about, just as the birds and butterflies dart about plant gardens on land.

Not Much to Make Up.

"Fo' goodness' sake," impatiently exclaimed Mr. Connelly during the poker game, "speak up lively an' say what yo' am a-gwine to do, Mose! Why, it don't take me mo' den two seconds to make up mah mind."
"If it did," replied the player addressed, very deliberately, "you'd certainly be losin'!"—New York Sun.

STOMACH TROUBLES.

Had It For Years Until He Heard of Mi-o-na. E. J. Jenkins Tells It.

If you suffer from indigestion, belching of gas, lump of lead on stomach, dizziness, foul breath, nervousness, constipation or headache, give E. J. Jenkins 50 cents today for a box of Mi-o-na, the celebrated stomach prescription, and if it doesn't cure you he will give you your money back. It relieves painful stomach distress in five minutes. Read the following:

"I had stomach trouble for years. After eating I would be troubled for an hour or so with indigestion. I bought one box of Mi-o-na tablets from Gaffney Drug Co., which completely cured me. That was 12 months ago and to this day I have not been troubled again." J. B. Haskey, Gaffney, S. C., April 20th, 1909.

Mi-o-na is the best prescription for stomach trouble ever written; not only does it give quick relief, but it cures permanently because it thoroughly cleanses, renovates, builds up and puts elasticity into the stomach and bowels. Mi-o-na is put up in tablet form and is small and easy to swallow. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Bryan by E. J. Jenkins who rigidly guarantees them. Test sample free. Address Booth's Mi-o-na, Buffalo, N. Y.

JUST IN TIME.

The Squire Wasn't Actually High, but He Was a Little Close.

They were discussing the salient traits of old Squire Gregson's character, the funeral being a thing of the past. "Some way or 'nother, between his goin' an' the buryin', nobody felt free to speak," Abel Nutting had said as an introduction to his remarks. "It seemed more'n likely he'd come to again an' call us to account, same as usual."

"He was free to give to philanthropy an' the church," said Barton Sedgwick when his turn came, "but in the family circle I called him kind o' close. I won't go so fur's to say he was actually high, but he certainly was kind o' close."

"As how?" inquired three voices in unison. They all had plenty of instances of the old squire's "closeness," but it was Barton's privilege to speak first, he being a cousin once removed.

"Well, I was there to a Sunday dinner with him last December," said Barton slowly. "He invited Sally an' me, same as always, once a year."

"Well, Sally had one o' those stuffy colds that make you feel worse'n if you had pneumonia, an' she vowed she wouldn't go. She said she couldn't taste anything anyway, an' the mere thoughts o' his cold pork an' boiled potatoes went against her. But she wanted I should go for policy, same as all us relations went, an' I did."

"Well, when I got there an' told squire he said, 'Sally not comin'?' an' clipped it right out into the kitchen leavin' the doors open all the way."

"Here," he said to old Jane Willis, that cooked an' done for him, "have those potatoes boiled soft yet? That's good. You lift out Mrs. Sedgwick's potato, an' it'll be just right to fry for my breakfast tomorrow," he said, "for Mrs. Sedgwick is kep' at home with a cold. Lift it out careful! That's right!"

"An' when he come back to me he was all creased up with smiles, he was so pleased with himself."—Youth's Companion.

A Haughty Personage.

Professors in Germany are important personages and know it, but few probably ever reach the pinnacle of haughtiness attained by the one of whom this anecdote is narrated.

He was one of the greatest men in the faculty at Heidelberg. One day the authorities of that city ordered that the street in front of the professor's house should be paved.

"If you don't stop that noise," remarked the professor to the pavers, "I shall give up my position as a member of the Heidelberg faculty."

The pavers stopped work at once. The municipal authorities sent around to inquire respectfully of the professor when they might pave the street.

"When I take my vacation," he replied.

Then, and then only, was the street paved.

Influence of Sunshine.

M. Paudet, an altogether competent authority on the subject, concludes from some experiments he made that the cold of void external space must be at least 233 of Fahrenheit's scale lower than the temperature of freezing water—that is, further below freezing water than boiling water is above it. Such would certainly be the condition of things upon the surface of the earth in the entire absence of sunshine, and such the earth will eventually become, for it is as certain as anything in the world that the time will come when the heat of the sun will cease.—Exchange.

Wise Girl.

"What? You're going to marry Tom Speed? Why, he's awful."
"What makes you think so?"
"I hear he's been blackballed by every club in town."
"Yes, I heard so too. That sort of husband won't have much excuse for staying out nights, will he?"—Cleveland Leader.

Trying to Place Him.

Boody—I'd have you to know, sir, that I'm not the idiot you think I am. Knox—Oh, I beg pardon. Which idiot are you?—Chicago News.

Bluff—I look upon you, sir, as aascal. Bluff—You are privileged to look upon me in any character you desire to assume.—Vogue.

Marriages in Spain.

Though marriages in Spain are often arranged without the consent of the bride elect, law or custom gives the Spanish woman the power of appealing to a magistrate if she wishes to escape from a union which is distasteful to her, and the magistrate may take her from her father's house until she is of age and her own mistress, while if she determines to marry a man of whom her parents disapprove she may also place herself under the protection of the law, and she cannot be deprived of her share of the family estates. On reaching her majority she enjoys the same privileges as her brother with regard to property. She may inherit, will, buy and sell. But when she marries she again reverts to the position of a minor, and her husband has entire control of her possessions, which he can squander without rendering any account to her, though she cannot spend a penny of her own money without his consent. He may desert her and her children without incurring any punishment or much public condemnation. A Spanish lady confers on her husband the titles of nobility and any privilege connected therewith she may possess at the time of her marriage.—London Queen.

Eye Use and Abuse.

Those tired eyes of yours will stand lots of abuse, yet there is a limit to their patience and their power. You may worry along for quite a while, but there will come a time when you will regret your present indifference.

Here are a few hints:—Headache, Dizziness—Aversion to Bright Light—Sleepy Feeling while Reading—Blurring of Objects either at close range or at distance—Frowning or Squinting—Smarting or Burning Sensation in or around the eyes—Fatigue or requiring stronger light when reading—Dark Spots floating or Bright Lights flashing before the eyes. These are but a few of the many Symptoms.

Just think it over. I fit glasses for defective visions and eye strain—that's all, but a little piece of glass will work wonders.

I charge nothing for consultation. If glasses are not needed, I will tell you; if they are I will furnish them at a reasonable price. A trial is all I ask. Neither can you relieve the strain by "hoping your eyes will become stronger." Weak eyes, when in need of glasses, always go from bad to worse.
